INDEX TO THE HUNTINGTON LIBRARY QUARTERLY

VOLUME XIV, 1950-51

Akrigg, G. P. V., England in 1609, 75-94
Aleyn, Charles, see Bacon versified, 223-38

Bacon versified, 223-38
Barnes, Robert, and the burning of the books, 211-21
Blanchard, Rae; Steele, Charles King, and the Dunkirk pamphlets, 423-29
Bussy D'Ambois, 1641 edition of Chapman's, 171-201

Calvin, John, see Fideism and skepticism during the Renaissance, 319-47
Century in retrospect, 1-15
Chapman's Bussy D'Ambois, 1641 edition of, 171-201
Chester, Allan G., Robert Barnes and the burning of the books, 211-21
Cowley's Davideis, Mac Flecknoe and, 99-127

Defoe's "lost" letter to a dissenter, 299-306
Dickens, Hood and, some new letters, 385-413
Disaster of Fort Ticonderoga, 307-15
Dryden, John, see Mac Flecknoe and Cowley's Davideis, 99-127
Dunce objects to Pope's dictatorship, 203-207
Dunkirk pamphlets, Steele, Charles King, and the, 423-29

Eaves, T. C. Duncan, Graphic illustration of the novels of Samuel Richardson, 1740-1810, 349-83
Endecott, John, see Quaker's curse, 415-21
England in 1609 [description of], 75-94
Etymologies, Whitaker's attack on Johnson's, 285-97

Fideism and skepticism during the Renaissance, three major witnesses, 319-47

Graphic illustration of the novels of Samuel Richardson, 1740-1810, 349-83

Hood and Dickens, some new letters, 385-413
Hoopes, Robert, Fideism and skepticism during the Renaissance, three major witnesses, 319-47
Hudson, Wilson M., Whitaker's attack on Johnson's etymologies, 285-97
Huntington Library, see Century in retrospect, 1-15; see also Research

Johnson's etymologies, Whitaker's attack on, 285-97
Jorgensen, Paul A., Military rank in Shakespeare, 17-41

King, Charles, Steele, and the Dunkirk pamphlets, 423-29
Korn, A. L., Mac Flecknoe and Cowley's Davideis, 99-127

Letter to a dissenter, Defoe's "lost," 299-306
Lievsay, John L., Bacon versified, 223-38
Loftis, John, Richard Steele's Censorium, 43-66
Luther, Martin, see Fideism and skepticism during the Renaissance, 319-47

Mac Flecknoe and Cowley's Davideis, 99-127
Manley, Mrs., an 18th century Wife of Bath, 259-84

Military rank in Shakespeare, 17-41
Milton and Sir John Stradling, 129-46
Montaigne, Michel de, see Fideism and skepticism during the Renaissance, 319-47
Moore, John Robert, Defoe's "lost" letter to a dissenter, 299-306

Needham, Gwendolyn B., Mrs. Manley, an 18th century Wife of Bath, 259-84
Norton, Humphrey, to John Endecott, 1658, a Quaker's curse, 415-21

Pope's dictatorship, a dunce objects to, 203-207

Quaker community, the transatlantic, in the 17th century, 239-58
Quaker's curse, Humphrey Norton to John Endecott, 1658, 415-21

Research at the Huntington Library: readers and their projects, 67-73; seminars, 67
Richardson, Samuel, graphic illustration of the novels of, 1740-1810, 349-83
Ross, Malcolm Mackenzie, Milton and Sir John Stradling, 129-46

Schutz, John A., The disaster of Fort Ticonderoga, the shortage of muskets during the mobilization of 1758, 307-15
Shakespeare, military rank in, 17-41
Shanley, James Lyndon, A study of the making of Walden, 147-70
Shudofsky, Maurice M., A dunce objects to Pope's dictatorship, 203-207
1641 edition of Chapman's Bussy D'Ambois, 171-201
Skepticism during the Renaissance, fideism and, 319-47
Steele, Charles King, and the Dunkirk pamphlets, 423-29
Steele's, Richard, Censorium, 43-66
Sterling, J. E. Wallace, A century in retrospect, 1-15
Stradling, Sir John, Milton and, 129-46
Study of the making of Walden, 147-70
Sturman, Berta, The 1641 edition of Chapman's Bussy D'Ambois, 171-201

Thoreau, Henry David, see A study of the making of Walden, 147-70
Ticonderoga, Fort, the disaster of, 307-15
Tolles, Frederick B., A Quaker's curse, Humphrey Norton to John Endecott, 1658, 415-21; The transatlantic Quaker community in the 17th century, 239-58
Transatlantic Quaker community in the 17th century, 239-58

Walden, a study of the making of, 147-70
Whitaker's attack on Johnson's etymologies, 285-97
Whitley, Alvin, Hood and Dickens, some new letters, 385-413